

Co-op banks need to encourage participation of young people: experts

Pune: Experts from the co-operative banking sector on Sunday stressed upon the need to encourage young people to participate in the management of banks to raise their performance.

"If the same people stay on the boards of directors of banks for years together, stagnation and inefficiency will creep into the banks' working, leading to a decline in their operational performance," experts participating in "Banking Gappa" (Let's talk banking) event hosted by city-based Vishweshwar Sahakari Bank as part of its Golden Jubilee celebrations.

The event took place at Boat Club and Directors of 35 Cooperative banks participated in this interaction. Vidyadhar Anaskar, Chairman of Maharashtra State Co-operative Council, moderated the discussion. ENS
